Foreigners Say "Finish" But Chinese Look For His Return

YEN IS IN FAVOR

He Attends To Business As Acting Premier; Wu Is For Him

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 25.—Immediately following the issue of the mandate granting seven days' leave to Premier Liang Shih-yi, the latter left for Tientsin this morning, while Mr. Yeh Kung-cho went to Tientsin yesterday evening. It is not known whether Mr. Yeh Kung-cho intends to go to Mukden in order to discuss the situation with General Chang Tso-lin.

During the last few days, the Cabinet crisis had become a duel between Mr. Liang Shih-yi and Mr. Kao Ling-wei, with the latter supported by the thunder of General Wu Pei-fu and active political campaigning by Mr. Chang Shih-tang and Mr. Pan Fu.

No official intimation has been given regarding Mr. Liang Shih-yi's intentions. Foreign circles believe that he intends to retire altogether but many well-informed Chinese are confident that he does not mean to give up the struggle and predict that during the week's respite, the situation may materially alter. The Chihli Party seems to take it for granted that Mr. Liang Shih-yi's premiership has ended and their partisans are already discussing the question of a successor.

Dr. W. W. Yen, whom this morning's mandate places in the position of Acting Premier, possesses a large measure of support on all sides, principally because he attends to his own duties regardless of party strife, and it is believed that General Wu Pei-fu would favor Dr. Yen. Mr. Kao Ling-wei is also in the running but taking all things in consideration, it seems most uncertain that Mr. Liang Shih-yi is yet beaten.

General Chang Tso-lin has not given the slightest indication of his intentions and policy since the crisis arose.

No party is anxious to take over the immediate responsibilities of government, with the attendant New Year financial liabilities.

Thus the period of Mr. Liang Shih-yi's leave is well chosen and he will probably have a full week to review the situation, ascertain what measure of support he can count upon and to gauge the full strength of the opposition and act accordingly at his leisure.

Tientsin, Jan. 25.—Premier Liang Shih-yi arrived here today at 11 a.m. Mr. Yeh Kung-cho, Minister of Communications, came yesterday at 11 p.m.

Poincare, referring to relations of France and the United States, said that France wants to maintain the strongest friendship and relations with all peoples who fought on their side for the rights of humanity, especially with United States whose co-operation had contributed so strongly to the common victory and who had just given at the Washington Conference such undeniable proofs of her friendly sentiments.

BRITISH TELL CONSTANTINE TO ABDICATE

Peace Depends On Son's Assumption Of Throne King Is Notified

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 24.—The special correspondent of the daily Express at Athens telegraphs that the British representative there has informed King Constantine, in clear and explicit terms, that the re-establishment of normal relations between Greece and the Powers rendered necessary his abdication in favor of his son, Prince George.

The paper adds that the King is prepared to abdicate. M. Venizelos is said to have announced his intention of offering his services to the Greek state on the departure of King Constantine.

SEAMEN JOINED IN "REDS" MOVE NOW IS REPORT

(Eastern News Agency)

Canton, Jan. 26.—The Chinese seamen, who have returned to Canton, have so far amounted to some 4,000 in number.

It is reported that they have already effected a connection with the leaders of the Labor Party such as Hsieh Ying-po and Chen Kuang-po, who are alleged to be identified with Communism.

The seamen are also publishing a special edition with a report of the Seamen's Association of China here, having their office at the residence of Hsieh Ying-po.

A section of the Mintung Party is said to be in sympathy with the movement of the strikers. According to a report from an authentic source, a certain tobacco company has supplied a large sum of money to the seamen with the consequence that their action has of late come to be organised by degrees.

DEADLOCK STILL ON

(Special To The China Press)

Hongkong, Jan. 25.—Both sides are still deadlocked in the shipping strike and it is freely predicted now that there is a likelihood of its continuance even after the Chinese New Year. Steamship companies are firm in their attitude and are not prepared to negotiate with the strikers.

The owners maintain that if the strikers' demands are acceded to this time, there is no guarantee that another walkout will not follow in another month.

They admit that in many instances increases could be granted but state that the Chinese guilds are obdurate in their original demands.

A report is current in Shanghai today that a deputation of Cantonese have been sent here to get the support of Ningpo Chinese employed on coasting vessels, hoping that they will join the strike.

Come Help Us In China, Japanese Mission Urges British At Farewell Fete

Asks Co-operation Not Only For Trade But Altruism—Promises To Remedy Piracy Of Foreign Trademarks

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 25.—A large and distinguished gathering was present at the farewell dinner given by the Japanese Mission at the Savoy Hotel last night.

Dr. Takuma Dan declared that the moral advantages gained by the Mission from their visit overshowered the material advantages. He said that he was astounded by the British spirit of cheerfulness notwithstanding the fact that it was the worst depression they had struck.

He also stated that the Japanese had been generously thanked for their services to Great Britain, but the latter could rest assured that should another occasion arise to uphold the power of civilisation, Japan would not be found wanting.

Dr. Macnamara paid a tribute to the Mission's genius for their shrewd observation, as evidenced by the nature of the questions with which they had overwhelmed him.

Mr. Kadono repeated his assurance that it was the Mission's intention to remedy the British grievances regarding trademark piracy. He referred to the enormous potentialities of China and urged Great Britain and Japan to endeavor to develop the country jointly, not merely for the sake of trade but for the benefit of the population.

Shanghai Scots Celebrate Bobby Burns' Birthday

It was Burns 'nicht' last night and in observance of the occasion Scots of every degree, in Tartans, in dinner jackets and in ordinary street clothes turned out and filled Masonic Hall on the Bund to overflowing.

The affair was given by the Scottish Company, S.V.C., under the auspices of St. Andrew's Society, and the program was given over in large measure to good fellowship, with a thread of exquisite Scottish sentiment that characterises the great Scot bard carried through it.

"I will be blithe and licht
"My heart is bent upon sae guid a nicht."

These words of the poet typified the spirit of the gathering.

The festivities of the gathering were ushered in with bagpipes, the skirling of the pipes by Pipers W. N. Maclennan and J. K. Ewing putting everybody in a pleasant mood. Other numbers of the program were of a distinctly Scotch flavor, and illustrated the great wealth of talent of high dramatic merit in Shanghai. Among those numbers, Mr. J. B. Grant's readings from the works of Burns was decidedly well received.

Offerings in the form of songs and stories, by Mr. R. N. Giles, won rounds of applause, and there was no less appreciation of the piano selections by Mr. W. Wallace, and the recitations, particularly that of Kipling's "Gunga Din," by Mr. G. S. Scott, all of the Shanghai Scottish. The sword dance by Mr. W. Webster was a very unique feature that delighted the gathering.

Lieutenant A. S. Campbell, who has the honor of being the commander of the Shanghai Scottish company and president of St. Andrew's Society, presided, and gave the opening toast.

"A 'for our rightful' King."

After the drinking of this toast, standing, and a graceful address by Lieutenant Campbell, Mr. G. R. Kingdon interpreted a number of good old Scotch songs at the piano, with the whole gathering taking part in the singing. It was a merry chorus.

Upon invitation of Lieutenant Campbell, Mr. J. Sims, president of the Irish association in Shanghai, spoke pleasingly and with great wit.

After an interval, Mr. S. J. Deeks favored the merry makers with a number of songs, which he gave with such good voice that he was recalled time and again. Lance Corporal W. F. Johnson gave songs and recitations, followed by some mystifying stunts in magic by Mr. R. Kay.

Mr. Allen Patterson gave a recitation that "brought down the house." Then followed some particularly fine songs by C. S. M. K. McKelvie, following which there were numerous extemporaneous numbers by volunteers, all of which added to the great delight of the evening.

The Masonic hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, numerous flags of all nations forming a beautiful setting for a fine portrait of the Scotch bard by Miss McColl. This painting was remarked by all who attended the gathering as being one of the best ever seen here.

EXTREMISTS ARE OUT; IRISH NOW TO HAVE CHANCE

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, Jan. 22.—The British War Office announces the complete withdrawal of the British troops from Ireland and the handing over of the Dublin Castle Administration to the provisional government of the Irish Free State in accordance with the stipulations of the new English-Irish Treaty of Peace.

His Majesty, King George, has wired his congratulations to Mr. Griffith expressing the hope that as a member of the Great British Commonwealth, Ireland will endeavor to co-operate with Britain for the establishment and maintenance of the most cordial relations among all the nations within the Empire.

It is worthy of note that in the new Irish government, nearly all the Irish political extremists are excluded. Future developments will show whether the new Irish Free State government at the Dublin Castle can do better than the retiring British Administration as Ireland is now governed by the Irish themselves. In the settlement of the century old English-Irish political feuds the anti-British elements in America have lost their best weapon to stir up ill-feelings among the Irish-Americans in the United States against Great Britain and simultaneously the settlement removes one of the obstacles on the way of Anglo-American rapprochement and co-operation for the maintenance of world peace.

Gong And Cracker Din, As Usual, Usher New Year In

By Elsie McCormick

Chinese New Year is no festival of rejoicing to the foreign community. It is the time when cook, coolie and houseboy whisk into silk robes and disappear in the direction of the ancestral wigwam. It is the period when the foreign missee looks anxiously through her trunk of evening gowns to see if she owns such a thing as an apron; then picks her way gingerly into the kitchen and wonders in just what tone of voice to address the Chinese culinary instruments.

Chinese New Year is the era when the shop that is repairing one's most necessary shoes complacently puts up its shutters for a stretch of five days. It is then that the tailor, unmoved by such events as the coming Suriner festivities, remarks placidly, "No can do," and leaves his customer with a pile of spangles, some tulle, and about as much chance of getting them put together as a cat has of being appointed watchman in a butcher-shop.

It is during the festive New Year season that the few ricsha men who are abroad demand double fare; that servants have a glimmer in their eye meaning half a month's extra wages, after receiving which they basely depart; and that foreigners plod to parties on foot because the Chinese have hired all the motor cars.

EAR-MUFFS AND TONIC

Anybody with nerves so jumpy that they act like a perpetual track-meet is advised to buy a bottle of celery tonic and a pair of ear-muffs. Otherwise their ganglia will spend the season on the spring-board and land their owner in a sanitarium. Every little firecracker has a reaction of its own, and as every little boy has at least a hundred little firecrackers, the answer is obvious. The noise, which has already begun, will soon make the process of scaring the dragon away from the shadowed moon sound like the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" in a deaf and dumb asylum.

Though the Chinese year now begins officially on January first, attempts to change the season of celebration have fallen as flat as a balloon after a lighted cigar has been applied. In Canton last year we noted that the small fry were glad of two excuses to pop fire-crackers and that Dr. Sun Yat-sen with his officials insisted that New Year calls be paid on the foreign holiday. The general population, however, demonstrated no show of interest until the end of the last lunar month. Then dragons that came out of hiding squirmed their green bodies to the rhythmic beat of drums; sampans wore red paper and carried ancestral offerings behind little grilled doors; women blossomed out in various combinations of red and pink; little girls wore their plaits high on their heads and twined them with pearls; and so elaborately gowned did everybody appear that it was a wise mistress who knew her own servants.

ALL BIRTHDAYS NOW

Many and various are the events that take place on Chinese New Year. In the first place it is the birthday of the entire population. Regardless of the season in which he was first inflicted on the world, each Chinese adds a year to his age at the beginning of the first lunar month. A child whose thirteenth birthday occurs in January might therefore count himself fourteen in February—a system of calculation which the Chinese will find extremely useful when they reach the point of evading child-labor laws.

Secondly it is the great national Saturday night. Though a Chinese of the lower classes might regard water all the year merely as something that belongs in a rice paddy, at this season he actually goes through the peculiar and superfluous rite called "taking a bath." Thus one can reckon the age of a member of the uncultivated masses by the number of baths he has had. Housewives of the same social stratum, whose homes during the year resembled the interior of a bachelors' mess six weeks after the cook had quit, suddenly buy a broom, chase out the chickens, and hurl several buckets of water on the floor in quick succession. Though the result would hardly be approved by the housekeeping editor of "The Delineator," it is nevertheless such a radical change that the family doesn't know how to behave.

STRICTLY HOME FETE

Griffins who expect to see colorful street pageants on New Year's Day are always disappointed. It is essentially a home festival, celebrated by family dinners, the placing of red candles and golden flowers before the household tablets, and the cheerful click of the ivory slabs around a table built for four. Its most prominent outward and visible sign is the red scrolls pasted on every doorway. As it would hardly be good form for a gentleman to wish himself good luck, he paints a scroll which says, "May the person who lives opposite have prosperity all the year," and then tacks it on the house across the way.

Members of families who have left the ancestral rooftree try to return if possible to put their feet under their parents' table and demonstrate sophistication to those who stayed home. Therefore the trains during this period are as congested as the chest of a Shanghai bronchitis patient. We are due to spend Chinese New Year in Soochow, but if the travel is as heavy as expected, we'll probably be obliged to hire a wheelbarrow.

"The powers represented in this conference, considering it desirable that there should hereafter be full publication with respect to all matter affecting the political and other international obligations of China and of the several powers in relation to China are agreed as follows:

"1. The several powers other than China will at their earliest convenience file with the secretary general of the conference for transmission to the participating powers a list of all treaties, conventional exchange of notes, or other international agreements which they may have with China or with any other power or powers in relation to China which they deem to be still in force and upon which they may desire to rely. In each case consideration will be given to any official or other publication in which an authoritative text of the documents may be found. In any case in which the document may not have been published, a copy of the text 'in the original language or languages' will be filed with the secretary general of the conference. There shall be in the case of each document solicited either access to a published text or a copy of the text itself. Every contract of the public character described which may be concluded hereafter shall be notified by the governments concerned within sixty (60) days after the receipt of information of its conclusion to the powers who are signatory of or adherents to this agreement.

"3. The Chinese government agrees to notify in the conditions laid down in this agreement every treaty, agreement or contract of the character indicated herein, which has been or may hereafter be concluded by that government or by any local authority in China with any foreign power or the nationals of any foreign powers, whether party to this agreement or not, so far as the information is in its possession.

"4. The governments of the powers having treaty relations with China which are not represented in the present conference shall be invited to adhere to this agreement. The United States government as convener of the Conference undertakes to communicate as agreed to the governments of the said powers with a view to obtaining their adherence thereto as soon as possible."

Following the adoption of the above resolution, an additional resolution was offered by Mr. Root and adopted as follows:

MOSLEMS NOW MENACE, SAYS NORTHCLIFFE

Change In Attitude Of Mohammedans Is Shock To Him

(Reuter's Service)

Bombay, Jan. 24.—Lord Northcliffe, in an interview regarding the unrest said that he was shocked at the change, in the demeanor of the Indians, especially the Moslems, towards the whites.

He said that the Moslem situation was much uglier than the British press appeared to know and that official, commercial and newspaper authorities were insistent on the ungency of an immediate settlement which, according to moderate Mohammedans, was only possible by a change in the British policy towards Turkey, including the recognition of the Sultan as the head of Islam and the restoration of the sacred city of Adrianople and the whole of Asia Minor including Smyrna to Turkey.

Lord Northcliffe sailed for Palestine today.

RUSSIA LOOKS TO VOLGA LOAN FOR RECONSTRUCTION

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 24.—According to the Russian Trade Delegation, a telegram from Moscow states that the Bolshevik Government has accepted the invitation to the Genoa Conference.

M. Tchitcherin, the Soviet Commissary for Foreign Affairs, has informed Signor Donomi, the Italian Premier, that the Pan-Russian executive committee will meet on January 27 to appoint delegates.

The telegram adds that plans are being elaborated for a large foreign loan and for concessions in the Volga region, as the Reconstruction committee realises that the restoration of agriculture cannot be realised without foreign capital.

REITERATE CHARGES

(Dalta News Agency)

Washington, Jan. 20.—Referring to a Tokio dispatch of the Public Ledger of January 18, alleging that the Government of the Far Eastern Republic practically disavows the actions of its delegation in disclosing the Franco-Japanese agreement, the delegation here has issued the following statement:

"The propaganda of the Japanese Foreign Office issued in Tokio alleging that the Chita Government repudiates the actions of its official delegation in Washington, has only one purpose: to confuse the issues regarding Siberia in view of the fact that the Siberian question is about to be taken up at the Washington Conference.

"The special delegation of the Far Eastern Republic in Washington once more reaffirms every statement it has made regarding the published documents. For almost five months the Japanese have been trying to force the delegation of the Far Eastern Republic at Dairen to accept their terms which would mean the surrender of the sovereign rights of the Russian people in the Far East.

"The Japanese are using the conference at Dairen for the purpose of making it appear that the Russian Far Eastern problems are being settled there and that there is no need for taking them up at the Washington Conference."

EXPECT BRITISH SUPPORT

Washington, Jan. 20.—It is expected that the British delegation will support the American viewpoint concerning the Siberian problem.

BONIN'S STATUS FIXED

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 24.—The Governments signatory to the Pacific Treaty have agreed to exchange notes defining the Treaty as inapplicable to the mainland of Japan. It is stated officially that Japan requested and the other signatory Powers agreed, that notwithstanding Japan's promise not to fortify the Bonin Islands, the latter should be considered as part of the Japanese mainland for the purposes of the Treaty.

SIBERIA IS SETTLED?

Washington, Jan. 21.—The acceptance at today's meeting of the Far Eastern Committee of Japan's undertaking to withdraw her troops from Siberia as soon as a stable government has been established is regarded as apparently marking the settlement of the Siberian question. Mr. Hughes again affirmed the United States' position as against territorial aggression.

It is understood that the Japanese have agreed to the final drafting of the Naval Treaty with a clause prohibiting the fortification of the Bonin Islands. A clause setting out the non-fortifiable Pacific Islands is on the point of being finally drafted.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The Senate has rejected Senator Walsh's motion demanding information as regards the Shantung controversy.

PRINCE IS GIVEN WARM WELCOME

(Reuter's Service)

Hyderabad, Jan. 25.—Hyderabad gave the Prince of Wales a fine reception this morning on his arrival here after a 35-hour journey by train. The ancient city rose to the occasion by adornments of true barbaric splendor and coloring. The ceremonial events were similar to those of the other native States which the Prince has visited.

The prearranged program was very slender so as to leave His Royal Highness plenty of opportunity for sport and recreation. Great crowds turned out to watch the Royal procession along a four-mile route from the station to Falaknuma Castle. Their demeanor was very friendly, although characteristically undemonstrative.

MARINE CHANGES ARE ANNOUNCED

Heinus to third engineer of the Kiangteen.

SOVIET ATTITUDE NOW PAVES WAY TO RECOGNITION

Washington, Changes in Soviet governmental policies, recently made or indicated as in prospect, may eventually bring about a resumption of trade relations between Russia and the United States, it was said today at the White House.

The estimates recently submitted to Congress by the Administration, it was recalled today in other quarters, called for an appropriation for the salaries of two trade commissioners and one clerk in Russia. Department of Commerce officials, however, have explained that while there was no immediate intention of sending commercial representatives to that country, the department, in submitting its estimate for the next fiscal year, was merely preparing itself to meet any possible developments along that line.

HARDING IS HOPEFUL

President Harding believes progress is in the making in Russia, but it is too early to tell definitely what effect abandonment of ultra-radical Bolshevik doctrines will ultimately have upon the American attitude toward Russia.

The work of the American Relief Administration in feeding starving children in the Volga regions has served to give administration officials a new insight into Russian conditions, and the latest review from the Commerce Department says conditions are in a state of flux and it is not possible now to foretell how they will shape themselves.

A change in the attitude of the American government, however, already is noted, because permission has been granted to a Soviet representative to enter the United States to buy grain with the remaining $10,000,000 unpledged Russian gold taken from the former imperial treasury.

The agreement to do this was reached between the Soviet authorities and representatives of the American Relief Administration. The food purchased will be distributed in conjunction with the $20,000,000 worth to be bought by the United States to feed children and adults and provide a supply of seed grain for spring. The Russians in their new economic program, which is a radical departure from the former extreme Bolshevist scheme, have made concessions to foreign corporations, but the latest advices are to the effect that such large rentals and other taxes are imposed that foreigners cannot undertake to operate because there would be no profits.

The question of restoring trade relations with Russia repeatedly has been urged, but the Administration will take no step in that direction until further assurances are given and there is more complete demonstration that these guaranties will be carried out.

The experience of the relief administration, of which Secretary of Commerce Hoover is chairman, has given this government considerable information about Russia that it did not have before this work was taken up. The administration demanded certain guaranties, and in the main all stipulations have been lived up to by the Russian Soviet authorities.

It is true that at times there has been grudging co-operation, because the aid from a captialist country was suspected, but the Russian officials have not thwarted the relief administration, in all essential particulars have kept faith with the administration and at times have given unselfish co-operation.

The decision to have the balance of gold taken from the imperial treasury set aside for relief purposes is considered a triumph for the work of the relief administration, which negotiated the arrangement.

GERMANS TO PAY REPARATIONS TO SHOW GOOD FAITH

(Special To The China Press)

Berlin, Jan. 22.—In spite of the criticism of Hugo Stinnes, the reports of Von Rathenau about his reparation and moratorium negotiations in London, Paris and Cannes are favorably commented upon by the German press.

In addition to the full payment of the January reparations, Germany is prepared to pay the February amount by all means so as to show Germany's faithfulness to the Versailles peace Treaty. The suggestion for the establishment of an Entente receivership for German finances has been dropped and Germany will be her own master in the reorganisation and reconstruction of her economical institutions.

The Wirth government has formally notified the Italian Ambassador in Berlin about its unconditional acceptance of Cannes Economical Conference invitation.

Big Fraud Is Charged In Stock Exchange Case

Another charge of fraud in connection with one of the bumper crop of stock exchanges which has sprung up during the past few months came to attention in the Mixed Court yesterday when Sing Foh-san, treasurer of the Continental Stock and Produce Exchange faced trial on the allegation that he has defrauded the concern of $156,000.

The charge is being pressed by Mr. C. A. Pereira, as president of the exchange and since Brazilian registration is claimed for the corporation and Mr. Pereira is secretary of the Brazilian consulate the application for the case to be heard by the Brazilian Assessor was fought by Mr. M. B. Brown, counsel for the defendant, who declared that in the first place the matter was one for civil action, if any, and that it involved only Chinese and should therefore be tried immediately by the court sitting, as it was an injustice to keep such a criminal charge, which he could easily disprove, hanging over his client's head.

VENUE IS CHANGED

The matter came first before British Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui yesterday morning and was later remanded for the Acting Brazilian Assessor, Mr. Ferrajolo, and Magistrate Tsang, who in the afternoon, following considerable controversial argument remanded the case for a special hearing.

When the morning session opened Mr. Pereira, as president of the exchange company, asked a change of venue, stating that the company was registered at the Brazilian consulate. Mr. Brown opposed, stating that he had a perfect answer to the charge, that most of the money was deposited in banks here and he objected to a remand for the Brazilian Assessor on several grounds, viz. Mr. Pereira was connected with the Brazilian Consulate; all the money and shares were Chinese, and, while nominally registered as a Brazilian corporation, the company was purely Chinese. On the Assessor remarking that there was nothing before the court to show any Brazilian interests, Mr. Pereira handed in the certificate of registration and also an injunction issued by the Brazilian Assessor the day before restraining six local Chinese banks from paying out money to the defendant.

The court then remanded the matter until afternoon for hearing by the Brazilian Assessor, the defendant not being required to give security.

OBJECTS TO REMAND

In the afternoon Mr. Brown again objected to an adjournment, declaring that in his opinion the action was a malicious prosecution and that he wished to clear the charge hanging over his client's head before the China New Year. It was purely a civil dispute and the money in question was on deposit and had not been touched.

Mr. Fischer, appearing for the plaintiff, asked that the books be handed into court and that the money in the banks be ordered handed to the president of the company, to which Mr. Brown strenuously objected.

"He is president in name only," he said. "I take it that injunction given reads that the money be paid to the president?"

Inspector Wheeler stated that the injunction read that the defendant was restrained from drawing any of the money on deposit and the banks were restrained from paying out money belonging to the plantiff without the president's signature.

Mr. Pereira then stated that the company was organised under the laws of Brazil and must therefore have substantial Brazilian interests. To dissolve the company, he declared, these laws must be complied with. $250,000 shares had been issued and sold to poor laborers at $5 each. The business had not been started and the accused, in conjunction with two directors had wilfully contrived to rob these poor people and without the witness' knowledge and consent had published notice that the company would be wound up and shareholders be paid a part of the money invested.

CALLS IT ROBBERY

It constituted, he declared, a cold blooded robbery. He had inquired among the banks of the Chinese City and found that five institutions had paid out all money held on deposit to the accused. The witness' letter was all that prevented the banks in the Settlement from doing likewise and he was acting in conjunction with the Brazilian Consul to protect the poor people who had invested.

The bankers in the City told him, Mr. Pereira said, that a total of $400,000 had been collected. He was also instructed that the accused and the two directors held numerous shares for which they had not made payment.

Mr. Brown retorted that Mr. Pereira was right in stating that the directors had deserted the office, as Mr. Pereira was up against all of the committee. Counsel appeared for the directors and committee as well as the defendant and he submitted that all their actions and resolutions had been properly passed. It was a serious dispute between the president and the directors of the company, but it was a civil dispute. They would produce all of the books.

The court then ordered a special hearing, the defendant to be released on personal bond and the books to be brought to court.

False Declaration May Reverse Ruling

A sentence of expulsion dated five years ago and cancelled by the Mixed Court Tuesday may be revoked because of false representations alleged to have been made by one of the witnesses in the case.

The man was expelled for blackmailing the manager of the Tabaqueria Filipina out of Tls. 240. Mr. Schoenfeld applied for the cancellation, pointing out that the man had since become a foreman coolie for Struthers and Dixon in Pootung, had a family and enjoyed an excellent reputation. The cancellation was granted, the deportee being required to put up $1,000 shop security. One of the witnesses in the case went to the security office and stated that he was an accountant for Struthers and Dixon and the principal shareholder in the "Metropolitan Supply Co.," which offered the security.

Inspector Wheeler stated to Assessor Blackburn yesterday that he had ordered this man's arrest following inquiry which disclosed the fact that he was merely a coolie foreman and had no interest whatever in the supply company.

Mr. Snyder, appearing for the accused, said that his client had been deputised to act by the owner of the company and the court remanded the matter until today for decision.

Obituary

MR. D. MCINTOSH

Funeral services will be held at Bubbling Well Cemetery at 4:30 p.m. today for the late Mr. Duncan McIntosh, representative of the Linotype and Machinery Company and the Mergenthaler interests, who died at the General Hospital Tuesday after a short illness from typhoid fever.

Mr. McIntosh was a native of Inverness, Scotland, and was 38 years of age. He was married only 18 months ago. Another sad feature of his death was the fact that only two weeks ago he let his house in Yangtszepoo and was on the eve of embarking for home on long leave when stricken with the disease.

Mr. McIntosh had been a resident of Shanghai since October, 1915, with the engineering department of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co., and enjoyed a very wide circle of friends. He was a popular Mason and held office as deacon of Lodge Saltoun. Since joining the staff of Jardine's he had installed linotype machines in practically every foreign printing office in China.

MICHAEL GRAHAM BARROW

The funeral of Michael Graham-Barrow, the ten weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Graham-Barrow, was held yesterday afternoon at Bubbling Well cemetery. Dean Symons, of Holy Trinity Cathedral, conducted the services. The Cathedral School Boy Scouts attended the funeral in a body, and stood at Salute while the procession entered the cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent by friends of the bereaved parents.

MR. S. A. SEREBRIANNIKOFF

The local business community learned with a shock yesterday of the sudden death of Mr. S. A. Serebriannikoff, local merchant who passed away at his home 62 Route Doumer Tuesday night. He had not been in good health for some months but was believed to be in no immediate danger. A heart attack was the cause of death.

Mr. Serebriannikoff was 43 years of age and came to the Far East 28 years ago, locating first in Port Arthur and coming subsequently to Shanghai, where he was head of the firm which bears his name.

Mrs. Serebriannikoff, who is well known in local amateur theatricals, and a daughter, Marjorie, now in school in England, survive.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, burial being at the Jewish Cemetery.

SAILORS FAIL TO IDENTIFY MEN IN STABBING FRACAS

Inquiry Begun At The Italian Consulate As Result Of Bar Row

Sailors from American warcraft who were wounded in the New Year's night fracas of Italian and American seamen when E. J. Reebey of the U. S. S. Wilmington was killed were unable yesterday to identify individual assailants when an inquiry was opened by acting Italian Consul-General Ferrajolo.

The melee of the sailors grew out of a more or less trifling barroom brawl, said to have occurred in the Victoria bar in the afternoon. In this an Italian sailor was thrashed by an American sailor and as an outcome of this encounter, according to reports, several groups of from ten to twenty Italians armed with knives and several revolvers set out that night with the purpose of punishing all American sailors they could find.

Two free-for-all fights took place in the Victoria bar and in the Tivoli bar when groups of unarmed American sailors who in both instances were outnumbered were attacked without warning. E. J. Reebey, who was an engineman on the Wilmington was mortally wounded and died the next day in hospital while a half dozen other American sailors received more or less serious knife wounds from which they have recovered.

To afford opportunity to the American seamen to identify their assailants the entire crews of both the Carlotto and Sebastiano, Italian gunboats, marched from the Old Dock to the Italian Consulate at 112 Bubbling Well Road and in the course of the hearing they were taken in squads of fours into the inquiry room. Following yesterday's hearing the inquiry is being continued this afternoon when further testimony will be given.

WITNESSES CALLED

Fireman H. R. Gillian and Marine W. Shalango, who were stabbed during the fighting at the Tivoli, and Carpenter's Mate L. N. Grossholz, Fireman J. J. Kelly, Gunner's Mate J. H. Johnson, Machinist's Mate M. J. McCue and Fireman J. P. Suder, all from the Wilmington who were in the fighting at the Victoria, were called in an attempt to identify the Italian sailors who did the stabbing.

None of the Americans could positively identify any Italians who had done the stabbing, but said, when they came from the hearing, which was not open to the press, that three Italians who had been in the Tivoli and Victoria had been identified.

Corporal Shalango said it was impossible for him to identify the man who had stabbed him because he was sitting at a table in the Tivoli with his back to the door when the Italians, armed and hunting for trouble, entered. Without warning four of them attacked him and he was knocked out, he said. In the melee that ensued when the Americans, outnumbered ten to one, fought back with bottles and chairs, he was shoved toward the door where the Italians had established a gauntlet of sailors with knives, and was stabbed by one of a number gathered about the door.

STABBED FROM BEHIND

Fireman Gillian said he was stabbed in the side from behind and was also unable to point out the Italian who had stabbed him. Others called at the hearing yesterday were part of the number in the Victoria when the fighting started in the afternoon and were unable to identify any individual.

The American sailors said, however, that others who were in the fighting had better chances at recognising the Italians and would be able to point out Italians who had been in the fighting. One Italian, who is an American sailor, is said to be ostracised by members of the crew on the Wilmington because of his "bad memory" as a result of the fighting.

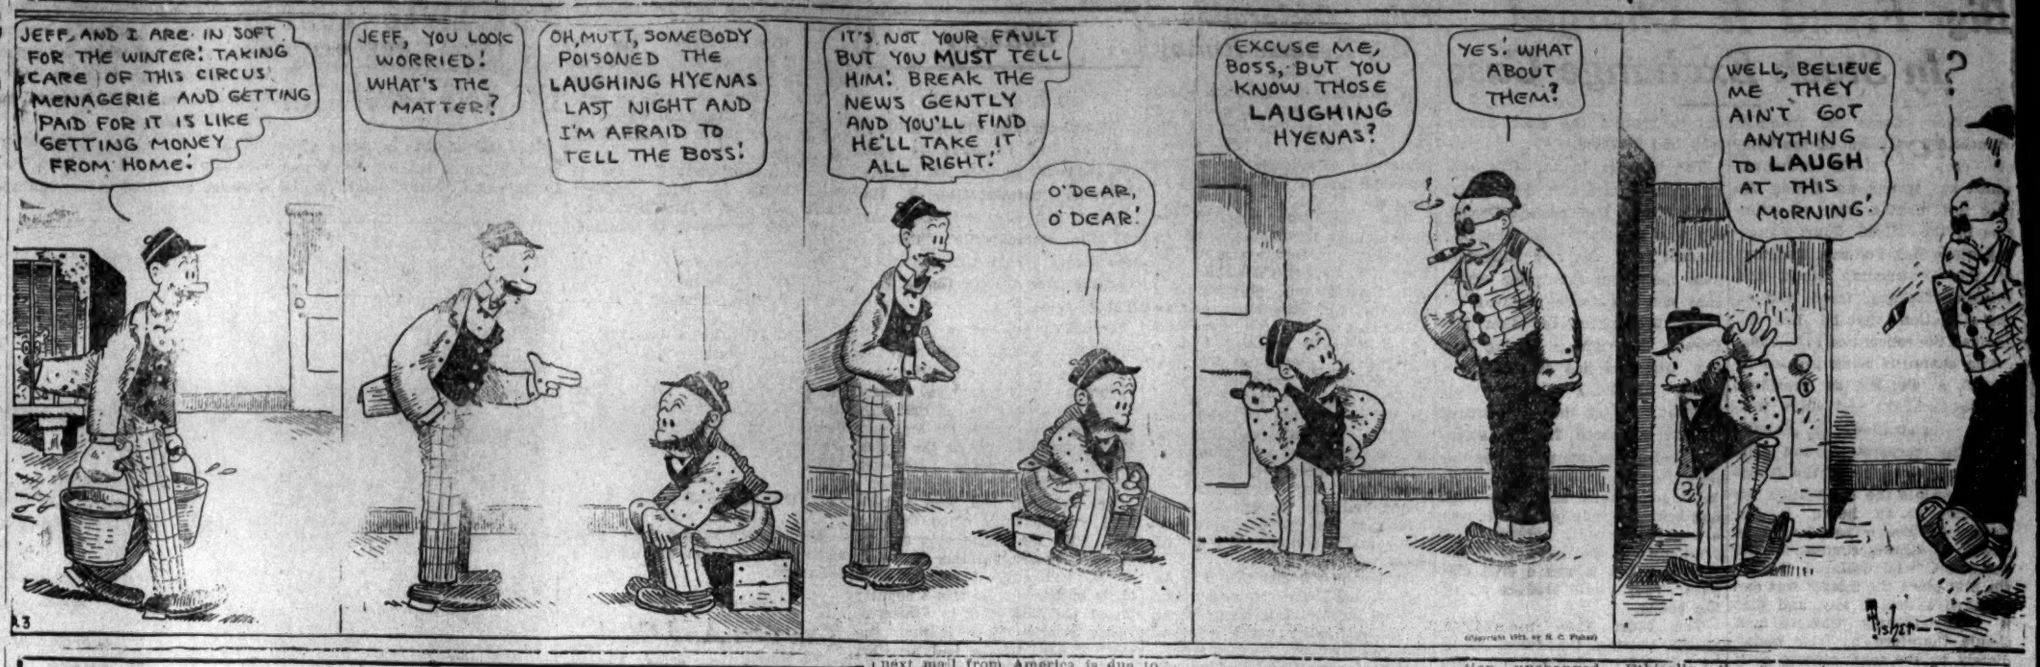

He was sitting with three Italian sailors in the bar when the fighting started, according to the sailors, but declares he cannot identify them. He has also fraternised considerably among the Italian sailors in port, they say, but asserts that he knows none of them and cannot identify any of them. Feeling ran high against him among his shipmates for some time after the fighting and he was confined in the brig on board the Wilmington for a week after the fighting for safekeeping.

A Judicious Inquiry

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its good qualities. Try it when you have a cough or cold.

Chamberlain's Tablets For Indigestion and Constipation.

"The nicest and pleasantest medicine I have used for indigestion and constipation is Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Melard F. Craig, Middle Grove, N. Y. They work like a charm and do not gripe or leave any unpleasant effect.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. Many such, however, have been completely restored to health by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets strengthen the stomach, invigorate the liver and improve the digestion. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. When you have any trouble with your stomach, give them a trial.

Sold everywhere.

"FRONT" IS QUIET AT VLADIVOSTOK

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, Jan. 25.—Careful investigation shows that the situation is more concrete at present. The front is quiet and the position unchanged. Ethically, the status of the Vladivostok Government is stronger than that of any previous one, as the population of the occupied area is genuinely sympathetic in view of moderate democratic methods, the eradication of Semenov influences and the conscientious efforts to restore order without brutality.

The economic condition is weak owing to a total lack of outside financial support. Consequently the troops lack the necessary warm clothing and supplies, but, nevertheless, are holding their own against superior odds.

The Japanese loan has not yet materialised although it is still being negotiated.

The incessant rumors of Mr. Semenov's return to the arena are viewed by the Vladivostok Government with disquietude.

Stubborn Case of Boils & Pimples

"Can honestly say I am quite cured"

Our portrait is of Mr. W. BRIDAL, 27, Strand Street, Knetown, Mountain Ash, South Wales, Great Britain, who writes:

"It gives me great pleasure in telling you about the remarkable cure I found in Clarke's Blood Mixture for boils and pimples. After having suffered from time to time from both, and trying all kinds of so-called remedies, and being under doctor's treatment, I thought of Clarke's Blood Mixture, having tried it years ago with success for a similar complaint. After taking one bottle it seemed to drive them out, and after the second bottle I found a decided improvement, and continuing with your Mixture I can honestly say I am quite cured."

Interport Hockey Team Starts Today For Hankow

Rugby XV. To Leave Tomorrow With Remainder Of Players

The invasion of Hankow by Shanghai sportsmen commences today with the leaving of five of the local hockey men to be followed tomorrow by the departure of the Rugby fifteen, which includes in its list six more players of the first mentioned game.

The contingent leaving today go by boat, direct from Shanghai, while the Rugby group travel to Nanking by train, thence by boat to Hankow, arriving one day ahead of the Hockey men.

The Rugby match at Hankow is scheduled for Tuesday, and the hockey match for February 2. The rugby men arrive at Hankow Monday, the hockey group on Tuesday. The former group return by the boat and rail route arriving in Shanghai February 5, while the hockey men take the all-water route back.

The men leaving today for Hankow are Reece, Cobb, Harvie, Brown and Jones or Tilley. They will be filled out to a hockey eleven at Hankow, from the Rugby fifteen by Gotch, Wainwright, McMeekin, Seddon, Columbine, Spencer and Gibson.

The team may lack some combination due to not having played together this fall, but they are all good hockey men and are certain to play Hankow a stiff game before they surrender the trophy won from the river port eleven last year.

Critics of the team are confident that Shanghai will be as strong as possible on the defense, though their attacking qualities are quite doubtful. It is expected however, that hockey experience and general all around strength in play will carry them through.

SHANGHAI MADE GOLF HISTORY IN HONGKONG PLAY

Hongkong, Jan. 19.—Hardly ever in the history of Interport Golf has a more exciting match been played than that which took place yesterday on the beautiful links of the Royal Hongkong Golf Club at Fanling between representatives of Hongkong and Shanghai. It is no secret that local golfers anticipated a fairly comfortable win and were not prepared for the surprise served up by the visitors. The issue was in doubt right up to the end, and until the conclusion of the Buckland-Roberts game no one could venture to predict the winners. As it turned out, Hongkong just scraped home by the very narrow margin of three points. The full scores were as under:

INDOOR SPORTS By Tad

These English Girls Know How To Play Football

Several sport critics in England stirred up a controversy when they said that the ladies would find the game of football too strenuous, so these two women teams from the Strand Corner House and the Regent Palace Hotel, in London, got together in a match and proved that they could do all that men could and perhaps a little bit more. This group gathered at the goal, and with a strenuous leap the goalkeeper got the ball away. You will notice the ball dropping behind the group between the second and third women from the left. Can they play football? We'll say they can.

POLO EXPERT ON TOUR OF WORLD PLAYS IN H'KONG

Hongkong, Jan. 19.—Among the passengers who arrived on the s.s. Nagoya was Mr. C. D. Lancaster, of the North Shore Polo Club, Chicago.

Mr. Lancaster, being a writer on the subject of Polo as well as a player, has been gathering data on the sport, having played in ten different countries since leaving the States, these including England, France, Germany, Spain, Egypt, India, Burma, Ceylon and the Straits Settlements. He hopes to be seen in the saddle on the fields of Hongkong, Manila and Honolulu on his round-the-world trip.

It is of interest to learn that Mr. Lancaster doubts the claim of the Indian native that polo was first played in that country. He witnessed a native game in the village of Manipur and it is said to have been first played as it is there to-day; thirty players on each side, mounted on small ponies, the game lasting about two hours, and a line used at the ends instead of goal posts.

Mr. Lancaster claims the Chinese played the game in A. D. 710 on donkeys, and the game had then been borrowed from Persia, where polo was played in a crude way at an earlier date. Credit is given to the British for improving the sport. After they settled in India they brought the game up to its present standard of rules, as played in England and the U. S. A. today.

Chicago At Stanford Track Meet March 28

Basketball Classic Is On Tonight At Chinese Y.M.C.A.

Bearcats And Amtraco Meet In Game That Means Much To Both

A basketball classic will be staged tonight commencing at 9:15 o'clock, when the American Trading five have their second and last chance at the unbeaten Bearcats. There is so much to the game that both teams are certain to concentrate every effort winning.

The Bearcats have a perfect record so far this season—11 wins to no defeats. They are working hard to set a record for Shanghai, a full season without a loss. The Amtraco five have had their eyes on the basketball pennant ever since the league was organised. Until last night they had been defeated but twice, once by the Bearcats and again by the Strokeside. They surprised the league Wednesday however, when after a nip-and-tuck game at Shanghai College they lost out by one point, 43-42. But they are hoping yet.

Should the Bearcats win tonight they will have fairly easy going through the remainder of the schedule. They will meet but one other of the present first division clubs, the Strokeside, on February 24. Irle and his players realise that tonight's game is the last but one hazard in their pathway for a perfect record. They will be out hard to win.

The game however is not expected to be the stepping stone for the Hong five to the first position in spite of their hopes. With three losses already charged against them they must now concentrate the efforts to the fight with the Strokeside for second position. Should they win out however, it may result that the Bearcats and the Strokeside will go to the Feb. 24 game tied for first honors, and the year's league trophy may be decided on that one game.

Two games are scheduled for tonight, but the first billed between the American School and the "Y" five to commence at 8 o'clock is not likely to be played inasmuch as the "Y" have practically withdrawn from the league, due to inability to keep a team in play.

E.C.C.E.A. BRINGS ANNUAL MEETING TO CLOSE HERE

The East China Christian Educational Association closed its annual three-days' meeting yesterday after a full and instructive program of reports, addresses and organisation business.

One of the outstanding features of the final day of the conference was an address on "The Regional Survey," by Prof. P. M. Roxby. Prefacing his remarks with a reference to the geography of the world as a whole with its structural, climatic and vegetative features he took up the problem of contact of different regions and different types.

Asking the question "How can a community make the best of the environment in which it lives?" he advocated the study of environment as a prime factor in the understanding of the rising generation for its surrounding whereby to create interest and advance the community.

He showed how districts had been ruined by the wrong use of environment, where social life had been sacrificed to private ends and where many lives had been likewise sacrificed because of failure to take account of geographical conditions. Schools, he said, could do much toward bringing the importance of local surveys into prominence.

Other features of the program for the final day of the meeting included a report on the Agricultural Curriculum by Prof. Griffing; a report of the Committee on Government Recognition, by the Rev. E. H. Cressy, and discussions on the securing of Normal-trained teachers for primary schools and on the possibilities of co-operation with Government schools in institutes, conferences, etc., by the Rev. Cressy and Miss Bradshaw, of Laura Haygood School, respectively.

Dr. C. C. Chen, of Shanghai College, reported for the Committee on Scientific Terminology and the Rev. E. G. Tewksbury for the Committee on Religious Education.

Moscow Sees Easy Way To Pay; Let America Do It

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Jan. 19.—Mr. Litvinov, the Soviet representative in Stockholm, in an interview with a Rosta representative on the subject of the recognition of prewar debts, said:

"Our note to the great Powers signifies open readiness for the immediate recognition of some categories of the Russian state debts. At the same time some of these categories signify a complex of political questions, the solution of which is impossible without being discussed on an international scale. Therefore we proposed the summoning of an international conference.

"The Soviet Government which has conscientiously fulfilled all undertakings which it has assumed will undertake no new or old responsibilities without having the means for their fulfilment available in advance. These means can only be found if other lands participate in the reconstruction of the economic life of Russia in their own interests. Not only Russia with its ruined economic life but also such lands as England and France have difficulties in the payment of their debts.

"In 1919 it was proposed to Mr. Bullit who came to Russia on behalf of President Wilson that America should assume all Russian debts to other nations and set them off correspondingly with the debts of the other nations to America.

"Such a solution of the financial question would have a colossal significance for the whole world. In my opinion this plan could be put into practice today with similar success, assuming that the American Government has the good will to do this. This plan could have been discussed in the Washington Conferece if they had only invited the Russian representatives to take part. That this would lead to a just and successful solution of the question of the Far East must be clear to every unprejudiced person."

SHIP OUTPUT DROPS

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 24.—Lloyd's annual summary shows that 1,500,000 tons of merchant shipping were launched in the United Kingdom in the year 1921, 590,000 tons of which were for owners abroad. This represents a decrease of 517,000 tons as compared with the record year of 1920.

The world output for 1921 amounted to 4,340,000 tons, a decrease of 1,500,000 as compared with 1920, but an increase of over 1,000,000 tons as compared with the previous record of 1913.

The tonnage at present under construction throughout the world amounts to nearly 4,500,000 tons, being 2,700,000 lower than that of a year ago. Construction of many of these vessels has been suspended and orders are still far below normal.

LOAN OVER-SUBSCRIBED

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 23.—The new issues of £30,000,000 of 3 percent British local loans stock, at the price of 57 and Anglo-Persian oil shares are over-subscribed. The subscription lists closed within an hour of opening.

OFFERS £1,500,000 ISSUE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 24.—Subscriptions are invited today for the Clan Line issue of £1,500,000 of 7 percent debentures at 99. The Company is at present free of debenture liabilities and offer a specific first mortgage on sixteen vessels valued at £3,226,000. It is stated that even during 1921, which was a bad year, sufficient profits were made to cover the interest of the issue four times over.

FACE WAGE CUT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 24.—The Lancashire cotton operatives have agreed to accept the employers' proposal to reduce from three months to one month, the period of formal notice of alteration in wages. This has averted a threatened crisis and has also stabilised the industry for at least two months and has prevented a likelihood of a relapse in the trade just when it is showing real signs of recovery. It is understood that at the end of the two months an agreement will be reached with regard to the reduction of wages which are at present 145 per cent above lists. It is stated that probably employers will suggest a reduction of 45 percent on the present list rates.

British Women's Association Notes

GENERAL

The following new members have joined the British Women's Association since last week: Mrs. E. Burrows, Miss Florence Craddock, Mrs. J. Godby, Mrs. John Hanron, Miss A. Cray-McLennan, Mrs. E. H. Miller, Miss Toeg.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

An earnest appeal has been made through the Association by a doctor in charge of one of the biggest hospitals in China to British women to lend a hand in connexion with the supply of bandages, dressings and other surgical requisites. The Social Service Board being of opinion that work in aid of medical missions will surely appeal to a very wide number of members has deputed a small sub-committee to organise working parties with this object in view. With the purpose of discussing ways and means, a meeting of members of the Social Service League and of all others interested has been called for tomorrow (Friday, January 27) at 5:15 p.m. at headquarters, Mrs. J. Dovey and Miss C. M. Robertson being the conveners. Mrs. J. A. Crecy Smith, Matron of the Shantung Road Hospital will tell the meeting something about hospital requirements and will also give information and advice in connection with the work in view. In spite of such short notice—the members of the League only having been personally notified—it is hoped that the meeting may be well supported. Tea (30 cents) will be served at 4:30 p.m.

GARDENING SECTION

In a recent circular issued to its members, the Committee of the Gardening Section call attention to a suggestion from the Social Service Board that the Section might consider the feasibility of organising a supply of flowers to hospitals where they are needed. Several members have already promised their support and at the next sectional meeting it is hoped that the scheme may be organised. The secretary wishes to draw attention to the first report on gardening issued by the Section, which will be on sale at headquarters and at certain of the local stores at $1.00 per copy for the public and 50 cents for members of the Section.

MUSICAL SECTION

Members are reminded that the delightful program arranged at headquarters by Mrs. McMeekin for tomorrow (Friday, January 27) will begin at 5:30 p.m and that members of the Section may bring friends on payment of 50 cents. Members wishing to reserve tables for tea-parties on this occasion should notify the manageress of the tea-room.

LITERARY SECTION

A paper on "Folk-Songs" will be read on February 7 at headquarters by Mrs. Edwin Wood. There will be no meeting on Tuesday next.

SPORTS SECTION

Owing to China New Year holidays there will be no play at the Badminton Club on Saturday January 28. It is proposed to hold an American Tournament, singles and doubles, from February 13 to March 4. Members desirous of entering are requested to send in their names before February 8 to the honorary secretary of the Sports Section c-o the B.W.A., 9 Kiukiang Road. The Sports Section Committee are looking round for possible tennis courts for the approaching season; two or more are desired. Information in regard to this will be much welcomed.

DRAMATIC SECTION

The inaugural meeting of this latest Section was held at headquarters on Tuesday, when over 20 of the twenty-five signatories were present. Mrs. Alister Campbell was unanimously elected chairman; Mrs. Michael honorary treasurer, and Mrs. Cochrane honorary secretary, the following forming the committee: Mrs. Isherwood, Mrs. Jory, Mrs. Manners, Miss Richardson, Mrs. Vera Doria Snodgrass and Mrs. Toeg. Taking advantage of a representative gathering, the views of these present were obtained as to the modus operandi of this Section, the feeling apparently being that when opportunity offered lectures in connection with dramatic art would be welcome in addition to the main objects of the Section. The Committee has arranged to meet almost immediately and a meeting of the whole Section is hereby called for Tuesday, February 7, at 5 p.m. Members should note that when meetings of two sections are arranged for the same afternoon, the reading room will be made use of for the purpose.

The Chinese Political Stage

BY JOSEF W. HALL

THE character of Chinese civil strike, which is so puzzling to the newspaper reader abroad, is well illustrated by the present anomaly of a Cabinet of southerners by birth, ruling in Peking; and excoriated and outlawed by the present heads of their native section. Indeed, the dwellers of the northern provinces blame southern adventurers in their midst for most of their troubles since the fall of the dynasty, and not without considerable reason. The Shantungese have a saying that when a Cantonese is bad he is a devil; when he is good he is an angel—but the good ones all go to heaven, not to Shantung.

The innate suspicion of the northern people toward the more acute southerners who have exploited them, commercially and politically, since the dawn of history, has much to do with the prevailing attitude toward Liang Shih-yi. Chinese put little faith in personal reformation. Having once been betrayed by Liang they one and all believe that he will repeat the performance if given opportunity. There is among them, however, no official or potential official whom they would trust. "Better a man whose susceptibilities you know than one who has not taught you where to watch him," is another saying.

Hence the people of the land take comfort and find a sense of security in the fact that Liang Shih-yi is governing but Wu Pei-fu is hounding him. "Set one to watch another," is Chinese political policy—domestic as well as foreign.

Often scored for their lethargic indifference to what appear in our eyes to be the most primary principles of patriotism, the Chinese public nevertheless at unexpected intervals manifests the most remarkable phenomena. For instance, when a political and financial adventurer who is popularly regarded as having amassed a fortune through stealing public funds and cheating the people, and who is universally mistrusted as a political leader, suggests the raising of a patriotic loan for the redemption of the Shantung Railway, popular organisations throughout the land forget their suspicion and opposition and take up the idea with a holy zeal. The leaders of some of these organisations may be inspired by the vision of getting cheap money into their hands and deciding, in event the scheme, as so many things in China, does not materialise, what then to do with it; but there is no denial that the people who are to do the giving are equally fired with the idea.

The People's Union of Shantung has worked out an elaborate scheme for raising the needed thirty million dollars in their own province. Each individual is to give one dollar per head, and one additional for each mow of land he possesses. Merchants and those whose wealth is not in land are expected to give proportionately. The provincial banks are acting as depositories and the Provincial Chamber of Commerce at Tsinan is guaranteeing to the participators their principal and six percent interest until such time as the money can be invested in the railway and they be made direct shareholders. Inasmuch as normal Chinese interest is from twenty to thirty percent they can well afford to guarantee six percent while they have the use of the money.

Citizens who give the regular subscription receive an ordinary receipt, those who give in excess of this receive a document acknowledging special merit. Thus does this active (and, it might be said, outlawed—for the ban of two years ago has not been formally lifted) popular organisation hope to raise within the province of Shantung alone the amount which the premier has suggested should be in readiness for the redemption of the railway.

Peking, Tientsin and Chefoo are fired with the idea. Popular bodies, from students' unions to Bhuddist assemblies, in all the large cities and ports between here and the Yangtsze and Szechuen and Shanghai are meeting to lay plans to assist their Shantung brethren to lift the load. Should the amount raised exceed that which they have been led to believe is required to redeem the railway, let it be applied to rid the country of the hateful Japanese Nishihara obligations.

The fact that in 1915, when Liang Shih-yi could not coerce sufficient money to establish Yuan Shih-kai's dynasty from the foreign powers, he launched a nation-wide patriotic loan called the "Fund for the Salvation of the Country," and collected some millions of dollars giving therefor paper, much of which was afterward repudiated because it bore an "imperial" instead of a "republican" date line, apparently does not deter the present campaign. Let me describe that criminal and infamous bit of financing in the words of another: "The public was assured that the fund was to be used in the promotion of national industry and other patriotic purposes. It was to be deposited in the national banks and if it was not used it would be returned to the subscribers with interest. The promoter touched the patriotic chord of the people. He exploited this sentiment. The people loosened their purse strings and responded in a way unprecedented. Money flowed towards Peking from all quarters most liberally, but as it flowed in Liang diverted it to the use of making Yuan Shih-kai Emperor and to finance troops to fight the very people who subscribed it. Beggars, children and even widows took their mite to the banks as their contribution for their country, the existence of which they were told was then threatened. Of course a semblance of refunding the money was made after Yuan's death but there was no interest attached to it. Many never got back their money either for the reason that the amount was too small to bother the subscribers or the receipts were destroyed at the time when the deposit was made for patriotic reasons. The public has never been informed as to the disposition of the unclaimed money.

The Hsin Hua Premium Bond Issue was another of Liang's schemes for raising money for the Government. The public are sorrier but wiser now regarding it.

Are they wiser? First, should the people raise their thirty million dollar fund to purchase the Shantung railway there is no assurance that Japan would sell. There is every reason to believe that she would not. Her diplomats say that she has no intention of parting with the railroad for a fund raised on the crest of popular anti-Japanese wave. In other words, the Japanese refuse to accept money which represents the popular hatred and desire to be rid of them as an undesirable person, too big to be thrown out by force, is bribed to leave a householder's yard. Of course they have no intention of getting out anyway, until compelled to do so. But this affords them a good quibbling point. Secondly, are the subscribers of this money assured of its security both before and after the projected investment in the railway? Who is to manage the new popularly-owned line?

Are the Chinese gullible? Not in our experience, although the recent "stock-exchange" phenomena have caused us much wonderment. No, they are sentimentally, unthinkingly patriotic, just as ourselves, but in a different time and way. And, it would appear, they are heading for the keen disappointment which is the lot of the average patriot

The Canton Influence Spreads

BY ORRIN KEITH

WHEN General Chen Chiungming upset the plans of the Peking militarists a few months ago and ended their schemes for driving him out of Kwangtung by driving them out of Kwangsi, he did not follow the usual custom in such cases and install his officers in all of the official positions of the conquered province. Instead he broke the militarist tradition and allowed the establishment of the civil government in Kwangsi to be handled by the civil authorities. As a result a scholar instead of a soldier now fills the post of Governor of Kwangsi.

Governor Ma is a man about forty years of age who received his education in Japan and Germany. He has specialised in industrial chemistry, a fortunate circumstance for a province among whose chief exports are vegetable and wood oils. Governor Ma has already contributed much to the welfare of the province by devising means for the improvement of the manufacturing processes both on the score of cost and quality.

It was not solely because of his industrial training that Governor Ma was appointed. It is one of the missions of the Canton Government to bring actual autonomy to the provinces of China and when the Kwangsi militarist crowd were driven out it was the desire to restore the government of the province to its own people. Governor Ma received the highest vote of any delegate from Kwangsi to the old Parliament and this expression of the confidence of his people was the basis of the choice of the higher authorities. While there is still a percentage of irreconcilables among those who profitted from the old regime, the people of Kwangsi are reported to be heartily supporting the new Governor in his efforts to establish an efficient administration.

These efforts go beyond the working out of chemical formulas important as the latter are for the people of Kwangsi. Of even greater importance is the development of the means of transportation in the province. Kwangsi has yet to see her first mile of railroad and even wagon roads are all too few. Her rivers furnish almost her sole means of transport and for half the year their use is much interfered with by the shallowness of the water. Wuchow, the chief port of the province is a day's trip by steamer from the present railhead. Nanning, the capital, is from two to six days journey beyond, while the other cities, Liuchow and Kweilin are still more inaccessible.

Governor Ma's first demand upon the local magistrates, therefore, was that they should arrange for the construction of a certain number of li of road every year. The amount varied with the character of the district but was so figured as to make the burden as nearly equal as possible upon the people of the different districts. Thus will the internal communication be improved with all the speed possible

To connect the province with the outside world, it is proposed to build a road from Wuchow to Nanning with provincial funds and Governor Ma is now endeavoring to work out a suitable means of financing the construction of this road. Various means are apparently available and it is even claimed that an American firm has offered to build a railroad between these two cities if the proper terms can be arranged. Such a development would be a long step ahead, though it could never reach its highest efficiency until Wuchow was connected by rail with the existing road from Canton to Samshui.

Kwangsi's greatest need is men who have had modern training and have seen other parts of the world beside their own native corner of the home province. Kwangsi's inaccessibility has kept foreign influence at a distance. Few foreigners go into the interior and few of the natives have had any but the most casual contact with Western influences. This need for modern-trained men Governor Ma proposes to satisfy by sending abroad every year about one hundred of the most promising of Kwangsi's younger generation. Each of the fifty districts into which the province is divided has been ordered to make provision for sending from one to three men a year to Europe or America for a university training. In accordance with his general theory of democratic action, each district is to be entirely free to choose its own students. The first of these emissaries from old China to the New World are already on their way though Governor Ma's regime is but a few months old.

It is more than probable that this ambitious educational program will have to be curtailed for two reasons. It will prove a tremendous strain in its present form. There are less than one hundred students a year who go to America on all the millions of the returned Boxer indemnity. More than this, it is doubtful if the province can furnish a quota of one hundred students every year who have had sufficient preparation to undertake college or university work in Europe or America. Nevertheless the general plan is entitled to all commendation for it means the beginning of a real attempt to attack the problems of modern development at the very foundation.

STUDENTS "STRIKE" AT BOONE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir.—I have just had my attention called to the notice in your paper on this subject and as it is substantially inaccurate I trust you will find room for the following correction.

A certain number of discontented students in the Middle School raised an agitation against Dr. Wakefield and tried to involve the whole institution. The College students took no part whatever in this movement. Permission was given to those students who wished to leave to do so and on January 7 about eighty (out of three hundred) actually left, all from the Middle School. Examinations were held according to schedule. Some twenty agitators were identified and expelled and the rest of those students who left have been suspended until the end of the present academic year with the exception of a few students whose parents brought them back immediately and paid a guarantee for their future good conduct. No fine has been imposed on anyone.

A full account of the episode was issued in Chinese and widely circulated. I regret if by inadvertance your paper was overlooked. Yours,

ARTHUR M. SHERMAN,
Acting President.

U.S. Revenue Bureau Tells How To Figure New Income Tax

A statement recently issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue explains the benefits to the average taxpayer of the new revenue legislation and gives the exemptions and deductions under the Revenue Act of 1921.

The bureau announces that a series of articles is to be prepared telling the taxpayer how to make out his tax return for 1921. The most important changes affecting men of moderate means are in the exemptions, the statement says. Under the act of 1921 a married man with a net income of $5,000 or less is entitled to an exemption of $2,500. The act also provides an exemption of $400 for each person dependent on the taxpayer if such person is less than eighteen years old or incapable of self support. A married man with two dependents would thus pay a tax of $68 on a net income of $5,000 compared with $104 under the old law.

The exemption of $2,500 also applies to the "head of a family" whose net income was $5,000 or less. The head of a family is defined as "a person who actually supports in one household one or more individuals closely connected with him by blood relationship, marriage or adoption, or whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependents is based on moral or legal obligation."

The tax rate of 4 percent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 percent on the remaining net income is unchanged. This applies to citizens and residents of the United States. Non-resident aliens are taxed 8 percent on income from sources within the United States, only a single personal exemption of $1,000 being granted.

The law provides that the reduction of personal exemption from $2,500 to $2,000 shall not operate to increase the tax, which would be payable if the exemption were $2,500, by more than the net income in excess of $5,000. For example, the tax of a married man or head of a family with a net income of $5,010 who has no dependents would be $120.40 if he were allowed only the $2,000 exemption. Under the above provision his tax is $110, 4 percent on the amount of his taxable income of $2,500, or $100, plus the amount by which his net income exceeds $5,000.

The surtax remains unchanged for 1921. On net incomes between $5,000 and $6,000 it is 1 percent, rising to 65 percent on incomes exceeding $1,000,000. In 1922 and thereafter it will range from 1 percent on net incomes between $6,000 and $10,000 to 50 percent by which the amount of net income exceeds $200,000.

Returns are required of every person whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, every married person not living with husband or wife whose net income was $1,000 or more, and every married person living with husband or wife whose net income was $2,000 or more. Also every person whose gross income was $5,000 or more must make a return regardless of the net income. Married persons living together must make a return, either separate or joint, if the aggregate net income was $2,000 or more or if the gross income was over $5,000. Gross income includes practically all the money the taxpayer received during 1921, and net income is the gross income less the exemptions and deductions provided for in the act.

The period for filing returns on the calendar year basis is from January 1 to March 15, 1922. On the fiscal year basis the return must be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year. Non-resident aliens must make returns on or before the fifteenth day of the sixth month following the close of the fiscal year, or before June 15, 1922. Reasonable extensions of the time for filing returns may be granted by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, but not to exceed six months, except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad.

The return must be filed with the Collector of Revenue for the taxpayer's district or the district in which he has his principal place of business. If the taxpayer has no legal residence, the return must be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue in Baltimore.

The tax may either be paid in full at the time of filing the return or may be paid in quarterly instalments due March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15. If any instalment is not paid when due, the whole amount becomes due and payable on demand of the Collector. The penalty for failure to file a return or pay the tax within the time specified is a fine of not more than $1,000. For a wilful refusal to make return or pay the tax a fine of not more than $10,000, or one year's imprisonment, or both, with the costs of prosecution, is the penalty.

Bringing Up Father

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By George McManus

-:- Foochow Notes -:-

The Rev. William Pakenham Walsh Williams, and Miss Elizabeth Marjory Pearson, both of the C. M. C. Mission were united in Matrimony on January 17, The Rt. Rev. Bishop J. Hind officiating, assisted by Rev. W. Conlin. Miss Pearson's cousin from India gave her away.

The ceremony was performed in the beautiful Chapel of the C. M. S. Girls' School, and the reception was held in the spacious school-rooms and parlors of the principal, Miss C. J. Lambert. The Chapel rooms and halls were all beautifully decorated. Light refreshments were served. The gifts were numerous costly and useful. The happy couple will leave on furlough in a few weeks to be gone about a year. Their host of friends wish them long lives of happiness and usefulness and will give them a most hearty welcome on their return to Foochow.

The Hon. George C. Hanson of the American Consulate has received notice of his transfer to Harbin, an office with a much greater volume of business and employing two vice-consuls in addition to the consul. During his three and a half years in our city, Mr. Hanson has busied himself in every thing that promised to advance American interests and those of the foreign community generally and those of the Chinese as well. The regard in which he is held is evidenced by the scramble engaged in by both foreigners and Chinese to secure for dinner engagements his few remaining evenings in Foochow, tiffin invitations are pouring into the consulate as well; and we know of one evening when the genial consul had a six o'clock dinner and an eight o'clock dinner after turkey and all its trimmings for tiffin. Success and health to Consul Hanson in his new position.

The American community, since it must lose Consul Hanson, is very glad to welcome in his place Mr. Earnest B. Price, who is to be raised from the rank of vice-consul and transferred from Canton. Mr. Price is not a stranger in Foochow, as he assumed charge of the office here during Mr. Hanson's vacation in the summer and autumn of 1920, and commended himself very favorably to all. Mr. and Mrs. Price have already arrived in Foochow, and a reception was given them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. West on Monday afternoon, Jan. 16.

Six prominent alumni of Foochow College, a school of the American Board Mission, gave an interesting and enjoyable banquet recently in the splendid Foochow Y. M. C. A. building in honor of Rev. Lyman P. Peet, former president of the College, and Mrs. Peet. The hosts were Liu Shu-fan, postal commissioner of Kweichow Province, the first native postal commissioner in all China; Ting Ch'ao-wu, representative for Fukien in the original parliament of the Chinese Republic now seated in Canton; Hwang K'o-ts'ung, of the salt commission in Canton, Liu Ch'ien-an, of the salt commission in Taiyuanfu, Shansi; Lin Fan-ch'en, of the salt commission in Szechuen, and Shao Tuan, superintendent of agencies of the Asia Life Insurance Company, Shanghai.

More than one hundred other alumni were entertained by these gentlemen, together with the Rev. W. H. Topping, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Christian, and Miss Martha Wiley, teachers in the College during Mr. Peet's presidency, and the Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Nelson, and Mr. E. H. Bucknall. Seven delicious courses were served, to which all present did ample justice. The decorations of the spacious dining hall and tables were most exquisite. Mr. Liu Shu-fan presided as toastmaster. Rev. W. H. Toppings said grace. Numerous reminiscences were indulged in, and mirth and humor flowed freely to aid digestion. Mr. Nelson, Head of the English School of the Provincial Foreign Language College and Editor of Kung Tao Pao, was called upon for a speech, and he responded with remarks on the Chinese renaissance, the growing changes in the relationship between the Chinese and their foreign helpers, and the necessity for the Chinese keeping their heads and going to work, of giving their minds to the infinite needs around them in their own country rather than to foreign enemies. Mrs. Nelson read a poem composed for the occasion, entitled "The Gardeners," to which all the "old boys" responded heartily, the toastmaster remarking however, that he feared they were poor flowers for such excellent gardeners to produce. Mr. Peet, surrounded by his loyal alumni of many years, outdid his usual self in the gracious manner in which he accepted all the honors shown him and exhorted his "boys" to renewed diligence and faithfulness in their individual tasks in this hour of their country's need.

The Chinese have steadily refused to support the forced withdrawal of Mr. Peet from the Mission. They have rallied to his help in many ways, and this dinner may be taken as an expression of the growing self-consciousness, not only of the alumni of one school, but also of our entire Chinese community.

On the evening following the six hosts were guests at a return dinner given by the remaining alumni. At this time steps were taken by the alumni to form a Foochow College Association.

The appointment of the Rev. Lyman P. Peet to the secretaryship of the American Consulate in Foochow noted in this column recently, has necessitated his disposing of the Kung Tao Pao, or The Daily Justice. This paper, the largest of all the publications in our city, has been taken over by Mr. R. D. Nelson, and its continually increasing circulation is evidence of the regard which the Chinese have for its high moral standard a standard which the new editor promises to keep up to the level given it by Mr. Peet. No one can properly estimate the influence for good which this Chinese daily, the child of the brain of Mr. and Mrs. Peet, for she has worked as arduously and faithfully on it as he has, has exerted on the life of our city.

The new editor is also the head of the English School of the Fukien Provincial Foreign Language College. Coming to China and Foochow only three and a half years ago, fresh from services in American public high schools and colleges, Mr. Nelson has already made an enviable record for himself in our midst. Both he and Mrs. Nelson won the hearts and held them, of the students of the Anglo-Chinese College, a Methodist institution, and of a constantly widening circle of friends outside the school. After three years Mr. Nelson assumed his present position in the provincial school, with Mrs. Nelson also as a part-time teacher. Success and the expressed appreciation of all concerned have crowned their efforts there and added to their friends and acquaintances. From the provincial tuchun, to whose yamen they have a standing invitation, down to the richsha coolies on the streets, who appreciate their generosity in the matter of fees, they are widely and favorably known.

For him to withdraw from its service the Chinese refused to allow him to leave Foochow,—another evidence of the growing assumption of authority and responsibility on their part. Your correspondent came near adding, "And thus another valuable man is lost to mission work." But, as in the case of Mr. Peet, such a man has only gotten into the position to render his full quota of service to the cause of Christianity in our part of China.

STRAUSS HURLS 'BAD' MUSIC AT HIS ENEMIES

Composer Takes Novel Form Of Revenge On Publishers Who Refused Favor

TWELVE SONGS REJECTED

Suit for Breach of Contract Follows—Substitute Music "Trash"

Berlin, Dec. 13.—Richard Strauss, Germany's famous composer, who recently visited New York, has created a new sensation in music circles. He has used music, not to express his artistic convictions, but as a weapon of war against his private enemies.

The composer of "Rosencavalier," "Salome" and "Elektra," has set off a bomb at the door of the music publishers in Germany—a "time bomb," to go off after he left for the United States.

His quarrel with the music publishing world in Germany is an old one and he has now paid it off in a song cycle called "A Shopkeeper's Mirror," of which a limited edition of 120 copies has been privately printed.

HIS NOVEL REVENGE

Strauss was under contract to write, within a stipulated period twelve songs for the well-known music firm of Bote annd Bock. Inspiration hailed and Strauss asked for an extension of contract. The publishers refused.

Strauss concocted a novel plan of revenge. He decided to hurl a broadside of satirical songs against the publishers and called to his aid Dr. Alfred Kerr, the pen name of one of Berlin's foremost dramatic lampoonists. Kerr wrote the texts, to which Strauss wrote music, inimitably reflecting Rabelaisian humor and swift-like satire.

For his song cycle "A Shopkeeper's Mirror" is no diatribe against the music publishing profession, but a series of ingenious personal attacks. The texts contain such savory epithets and allusions as "oderiferous goat" (the English word for Bock) "swarm of scarifiers," slinking hucksters," stinking bedbugs," and "carriers of bacilli."

SUES PUBLISHERS

These are the twelve songs which Strauss sent to Bote and Bock in fulfillment of his contract. As was to be expected they were refused. Thereupon Strauss brought suit for breach of contract, there being no stipulation as to the character of the songs to be delivered.

The publishers brought a counter suit for libel. A compromise was finally reached by the terms, of which Strauss was to write twelve new songs and undertake not to publish the offensive "Shopkeeper's Mirror." He duly delivered the twelve substitute songs said to be the worst sort of trash and a dead commercial loss to the publishers, and dodged their second condition by having the original cycle privately printed and sold.

For the new series of songs, Strauss engaged the artist, Michel Fingesten, to furnish a series of frontispieces as an additional interpreter of the Strauss humor and revenge. One Fingesten frontispiece portrays a huge and well-fed hog reflected in a mirror, while Strauss mounted on his fiery Pegasus, rides gaily and triumphantly away through the clouds.

Each song is introduced by some trenchant bit of Fingesten satire, for the etcher possesses both humor and fantasy and a Hogarth like eye for human frailties. The "Mirror" is one of genuine musical inspiration, and said to be far and away the best thing that Strauss has written for years.

"FOOD for SCANDAL"

THE IDEA! SHE VAMPED CLIENTS FOR HIM!!

He was a poor attorney; she was his fiancee; and she determined that HE MUST HAVE LAW BUSINESS. So she threw a divorce case his way. A condition of her securing the "case" for him was that she must act as co-respondent.

Even that didn't feaze this girl! But it led to complications that almost lost her the love of the very man she had set out to help.

Can you imagine such a predicament befalling a well-meaning, darn-foolish, dare-devil girl?
